Event Code of Behavior

Our Expectations

Red Hat values collaboration and community. We want our events to provide an opportunity for all Attendees to collaborate, learn, participate, and network in an environment that is productive and respectful. We expect Attendees to be courteous and act professionally at all Red Hat events and to interact and communicate in ways that are appropriate for a professional audience from diverse backgrounds. Behaviors inconsistent with these expectations include:

- Conduct, language, or other action inappropriate for a professional setting that negatively refers to Attendee's race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, genetic information, or physical appearance.
- Harassment of a Attendee based on an Attendee's race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, genetic information, or physical appearance, whether by conduct, language, or other action.
- Problematic conduct and language may include the nature and manner of communications (including through jokes or imagery), uninvited contact or following, and unwelcome sexual attention, among others.

If an Attendee engages in behavior that doesn't comply with these expectations, Red Hat may take any action that it deems appropriate, including warning the Attendee, excluding the Attendee from certain activities, prohibiting the Attendee from attending or participating in future Red Hat events, terminating Attendee's access to the Services, including without a refund (if applicable), and referring the matter to the local authorities. Attendees asked to stop any harassing or other unacceptable behavior are expected to comply immediately. If the Attendee is a Red Hat employee, Red Hat also reserves the right to take full disciplinary action pursuant to our internal policies.

Please note, while we take all concerns raised seriously, we will use our discretion to determine when and how to follow up on reported incidents, and may decline to take any further action and/or may direct the Attendee to other resources to address the concern.
